Where is Dushanbe located?

Dushanbe is located in the Gissar Valley, bounded by the Gissar Range in the north and east and the Babatag, Aktau, Rangontau and Karatau mountains in the south, and has an elevation of 750-930 m. The city is divided into four districts: Ismail Samani, Avicenna, Ferdowsi, and Shah Mansur.

What is Dushanbe known for?

Dushanbe International Airport is the primary airport serving the city. Other forms of transport include the trolleybus system dating from 1955, the small rail system, and the roads that traverse the city. Dushanbe's electricity is primarily hydroelectric, produced by the Nurek Dam, and the aging water system dates from 1932.

Does Dushanbe Airport have free WiFi?

Dushanbe Airport (code: DYU) has a small, recently-built terminal that serves many Asian and European destinations. Facilities are limited to a few eateries and shops as well as the 24-hour Sky Bar. Free WiFi helps pass the time. For added comfort while you wait, economy class passengers can pay to enter two airport lounges.

When was Dushanbe built?

In 1934 and 1935, the Griprogor Institute, based in Leningrad, created a master plan for the construction of Dushanbe. It was approved on 3 March 1938. The city center during the reconstruction shifted to Red Square and Frunze Park, the location of many workers demonstrations and military parades into the forties.
